PARTNERSHIP PROPOSAL

GoPro × Sidemen · 12 months · Charity Match

SEE IT HOW THEY SEE IT

A GOPRO × SIDEMEN PARTNERSHIP, PLUS AN UPSIDE PORTFOLIO PLAN

Independent, unsolicited proposal built from public data. Not affiliated with or endorsed by the Sidemen, GoPro or Upside. Rates and conversion figures are benchmarks or assumptions.

A £836K PARTNERSHIP, STRUCTURED FOR A BRAND IN RECOVERY

72M	£836K	£457K	2.2X
VIEWS ACROSS FOUR FORMATS	MEDIA VALUE AT MARKET RATES	TOTAL COST TO GOPRO	VALUE TO GOPRO PER £1

THE IDEA	Position GoPro as the Sidemen's point-of-view camera, so the product generates the content rather than interrupting it: GoPro-filmed Sidemen Sunday challenges, 'Player Cam' at the next Charity Match, and short-form cut-downs.
THE PROOF	The affinity already exists. Players such as WillNE and Miniminter have brought their own GoPros to the Charity Match as personal 'player cams'. The official 2026 match post featuring one was not a GoPro advert: the brand earned the placement organically. This deal makes it commercial.
THE DEAL	A £350K fixed fee (c.42% of media value), product in kind and 10% commission on code sales. The discount lowers GoPro's upfront risk; performance pay preserves the Sidemen's upside.
UPSIDE	The same framework prioritises Howbout across the portfolio, and routes airtime to shorts and event moments, where its opportunity cost is lowest.

Source: GoPro_Sidemen_Value_Model.xlsx (Summary, Deal_Structure).

WHY BRANDS WANT IN

BRANDS BUY ACCESS AND TRUST. THE CONSTRAINT IS FIT.

WHAT BRANDS GET

23.4M subscribers in a demographic that avoids traditional advertising but opts in to this content

52M main-channel views a month, so reach is recurring rather than one-off

90,000 Wembley sell-outs in 2025 and 2026: evidence of offline demand, not just online reach

£6.2M raised in 2026, giving partners a charitable halo few creator events can offer

WHAT'S OFF THE TABLE

~~CHICKEN · VODKA · STREETWEAR~~

Would compete directly with Sides, XIX and Sidemen Clothing

~~ENERGY DRINKS · TRADING CARDS~~

Conflicts with members' own ventures, such as Prime

~~GAMBLING · VPNS · CRYPTO~~

Erodes trust with a young audience; the reputational cost outweighs the fee

WHAT WORKS: integrations where the product is native to the format, either built into a specific video or attached to a tentpole event. Anything else reads as an advert and dilutes the 'part of the group' feeling the audience is buying into.

Sources: vidIQ (Oct 2026); Wikipedia; Tubefilter (Charity Match 2025 and 2026). Analysis by the author.

THE TEAM SHEET: ELEVEN BRANDS, ONE CAPTAIN

1	GOPRO	CAPTAIN	4.55
2	PLAYSTATION		4.05
3	IKEA		3.90
4	MERLIN (THORPE PARK)		3.85
5	VIRGIN ATLANTIC		3.80
6	AIRBNB		3.75
7	STATSPORTS		3.70
8	MONOPOLY (BOARD GAME)		3.60
9	DUOLINGO		3.55
10	WHOOP		3.50
11	GARMIN		3.30

SCORED ON

FITS IN VIDEOS AND EVENTS	25%
AUDIENCE FIT, 18-25	20%
FRESHNESS	15%
NO CONFLICTS	15%
WHY NOW	15%
BRAND SAFETY	10%

WHY GOPRO

The only brand whose product generates the content rather than sitting beside it. It is priced within reach of 18-25s, under-used by UK creators, and commercially motivated to act now. It has also already appeared organically: players such as WillNE and Miminter have brought their own GoPros to the Charity Match as unsponsored 'player cams'. PlayStation runs it closest, but already works with many gaming creators.

Source: Scorecard sheet. Scores are the author's judgement; weights and scores can be changed in the model.

-37%

GOPRO CUT ITS MARKETING SPEND IN 2025

With less budget, every pound has to prove itself: reach that converts, not reach for its own sake.

GoPro's own 10-K states that its marketing depends on athletes, entertainers and user-generated footage. A Sidemen partnership supplies all three at scale, and the discount code converts brand spend into attributable sales: exactly the evidence a cost-constrained marketing team needs to justify renewal.

-18.7%	FY2025 revenue, to $651.5m
33.6%	Gross margin on every camera
0.6%	This deal as a share of GoPro's 2025 sales and marketing
GP3	New processor and camera lineup to launch

Sources: GoPro Q4 and FY2025 results (Mar 2026); GoPro Form 10-K FY2025; Bicycle Retailer (Nov 2025).

THE PACKAGE

FOUR FORMATS. ONE POINT OF VIEW.

NO.	FORMAT	VIEWS	VALUE
01	SIDEMEN SUNDAY ×3 Head, chest and helmet cams, where the camera is the premise of the challenge	25.5M	£459K
02	CHARITY MATCH PLAYER CAM Body-worn replays and tunnel cam: footage only GoPro can capture	11M	£148K
03	POV CLIPS ×20 First-person highlights cut for TikTok, Shorts and Instagram	30M	£120K
04	BEHIND THE SCENES ×2 Kit-up and match-day vlogs that extend the match's lifespan	6M	£108K
TOTAL		72M	£836K

Views: Deal_Value sheet. Main-channel views use the recent median (c.8.5m); match views use the 2026 stream (over 11m; Tubefilter, Apr 2026).

WHAT IT'S WORTH

72M VIEWS, WORTH £836K AT MARKET RATES

HOW IT'S VALUED

Media value prices the attention GoPro would otherwise buy: views × the market rate per 1,000 views. Event placements are discounted for GoPro's share of a busy broadcast, then uplifted for exclusivity, live reach and press.

PLUS CAMERA SALES

2,220 cameras through the Sidemen code (£666k) if 0.2% of viewers visit and 3% buy. Only incremental sales count: GoPro keeps £157K of gross profit after excluding buyers who would have purchased anyway.

BUILT IN, NOT BOLTED ON

The challenge videos carry 55% of the value because the camera is the format. Remove the product and the video no longer exists: the strongest defence against ad fatigue.

Source: Deal_Value sheet. Long-form rate $24 per 1,000 views (Influencer Marketing Hub range $15-30), converted at £0.75 per $.

LOW FEE. KIT. COMMISSION. 2.17X BACK PER £1.

Source: Deal_Structure sheet. Value = media value + incremental gross profit; cost = fee + product + commission.

WHY THIS SHAPE

GoPro cut marketing by 37%, so a market-rate fee would likely stall in procurement. Pricing the fixed fee at c.42% of media value lowers the hurdle, while commission (£67K) shifts part of the payment to outcomes GoPro can verify.

FOR THE SIDEMEN

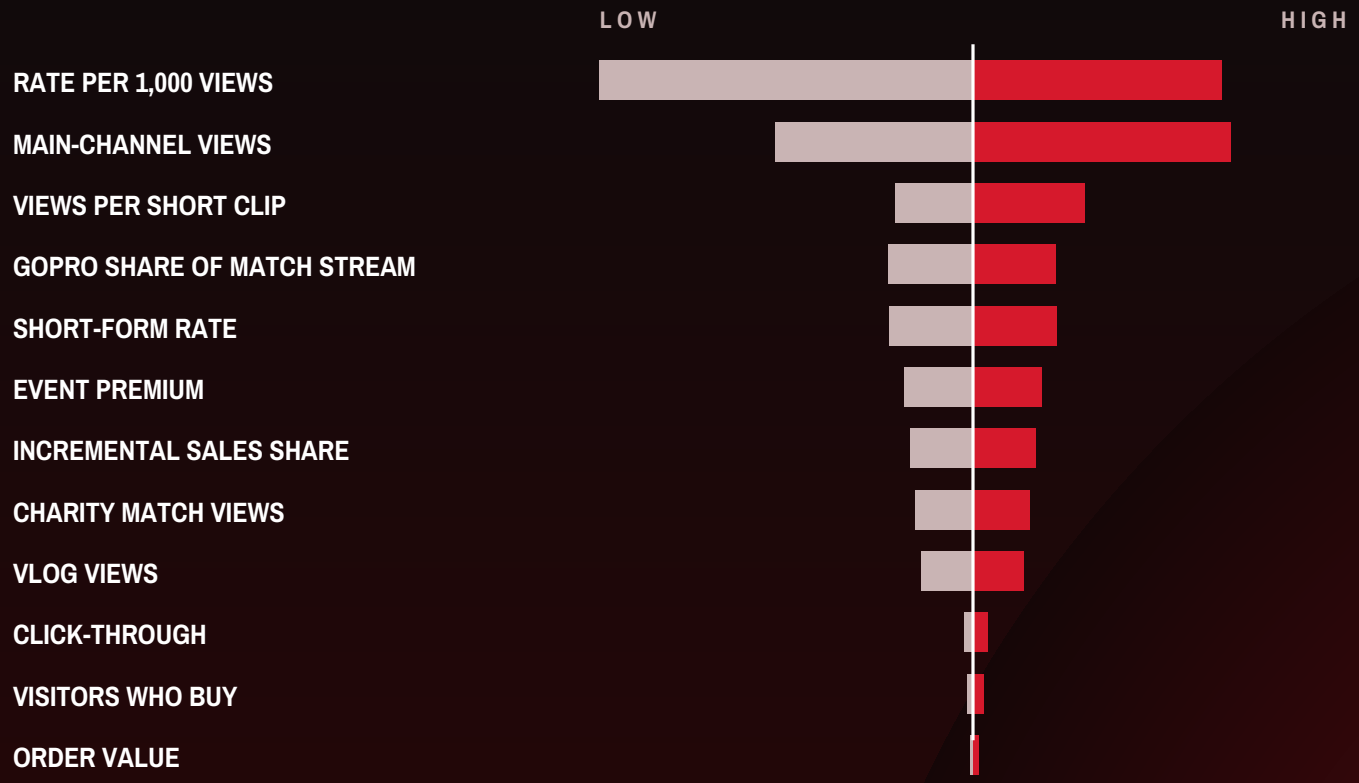

About £417K in cash plus kit, with uncapped upside if sales outperform. Accepting performance pay also signals confidence in product-audience fit, which strengthens the negotiating position.

PROTECTION

Instalments tied to delivery milestones, backed by a minimum-views guarantee and a make-good video, so neither side carries the full risk of underperformance.

STRESS TEST

IT HOLDS UP. PRICING DRIVES THE RESULT; SALES BARELY MOVE IT.

BIGGEST DRIVERS

The result is most sensitive to the market rate per 1,000 views and main-channel views. Both are pricing inputs, and both are verifiable from the Sidemen's analytics and agency rate cards.

SALES HARDLY MATTER

Higher sales lift GoPro's gross profit but also its commission, so the two largely offset. The structure is deliberately self-hedging.

WORST CASE

With every input at its low value at once, GoPro receives 0.81x; at high values, 3.70x. The downside needs everything to go wrong together, so a views guarantee is proportionate protection.

Source: Sensitivity sheet and Deal_Structure scenarios. Each input moved to its low and high value, others at base.

MEASUREMENT AND DELIVERY

AGREED UP FRONT. REPORTED BACK IN ONE PLACE.

REACH	Views across videos, match stream and clips	72M
ATTENTION	Watch time on GoPro segments and Player Cam replays	AGREED
SALES	Cameras sold through the Sidemen code and link	2,220
BRAND	Brand-lift survey among 18-25s	UPLIFT
CONTENT	GoPro footage reused in GoPro's own channels	RIGHTS

WHO'S INVOLVED

Talent and management, production and creative, the match production company, agents and GoPro's brand team. The associate's job is to keep commercial commitments deliverable on set, not just agreed on paper.

SIGN-OFFS

Player consent for body-worn cameras, Wembley and broadcast safety rules, #ad disclosure on every asset, and GoPro approval of product claims, each secured before content is scheduled.

Analysis by the author. Stakeholders reflect the role description: talent, management, production, creative, agents and partners.

SAME FRAMEWORK. CHEAPER INVENTORY. RIGHT SLOT.

PRIORITY

HOWBOUT

Social calendar app: 4m+ users, mostly 25 or under.

1.01X

VALUE CREATED PER £1 OF AIRTIME

SCORE 4.35 · 28,800 USERS

THE PLAY

A Charity Match watch-party planner plus shorts. It is native to how fans already organise around the match, so it reads as a utility rather than an advert.

SHORTS ONLY

NIMBI

Plastic-free razor at a low price point.

0.24X

VALUE CREATED PER £1 OF AIRTIME

SCORE 3.85 · 960 CUSTOMERS

THE PLAY

A changing-room vlog segment plus shorts. A low-price product needs volume, so it only pays back in inventory with a low opportunity cost.

USE IT, DON'T ADVERTISE IT

CEARTAS

AI copyright and piracy protection for creators.

0.33X

VALUE CREATED PER £1 OF AIRTIME

SCORE 3.25 · 15 CUSTOMERS

THE PLAY

Protect the match stream and clips from piracy, then publish the results. Its buyers are creators, not fans, so its value is operational, not promotional.

Sources: TechCrunch (Howbout); FounderMade (Nimbi); Silicon Republic (Ceartas); Think Like A Creator. Customer values are illustrative assumptions.

NEXT STEPS

KICK OFF.

01	Confirm category exclusivity and existing deals with management and agents.
02	Re-price the model using first-party view, audience and campaign data.
03	Open with GoPro using the organic 2026 match moment as the hook.
04	Validate the Player Cam concept with the match production team.
05	Brief Howbout on a watch-party integration for the same match.

RISKS, COVERED

Constrained budget: mitigated by a below-market fee, kit in lieu of cash and performance pay

Advert fatigue: the Sidemen retain creative control; GoPro appears only where it is genuinely used

Under-delivery: a minimum-views guarantee with a make-good video

Player Cam logistics: early safety and broadcast sign-off with the production company

Model risk: benchmark inputs replaced with first-party data before pricing is agreed

Full assumptions, sources and checks are in GoPro_Sidemen_Value_Model.xlsx.